

Breakdown of Finance Minister's Atmanirbhar Bharat

Finance Minister gave a press statement and a document of 27 pages has been released. Everybody is hoping now for the other parts. When the economy is in crisis everyone hoped for relief package for creating demand and feeding the poor. Packages as done in other countries. That is the oxygen needed but the patient has been told that he has to wait and if he survives, he can get paracetamol. Let's analyse the package announced in detail.

The document talks about liquidity released by RBI which is not government money. In fact banks have deposited more than Rs 8 lakh Cr with RBI. The biggest announcement is Rs.3 lakh Cr collateral free loans to micro and small industries, Rs.20000 Cr subordinate debt and Rs.50000 Cr equity to MSMEs. These are all loans which have to be paid with interest to banks. Read more...

Webinar: Re-Imagining the Future; Peoples' Agenda for Post Covid Economy

The first Inaugural session for webinar series Peoples' Agenda for Post Covid Economy was held on May 15, 2020. The webinar was addressed by TM Thomas Issac (Finance Minister of Kerala), Aruna Roy (Social Activist, Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan), Prabhat Patnaik (Professor Emeritus, JNU), Vandana Shiva Navdanya as well as moderator: Leo Saldanha (Environment Support Group).

New Political and Economic Models Needed

As the humans stayed inside for close to a month and a half since the announcement of lockdown in the wake of coronavirus threat, most people observe that life seems to have start breathing in nature. The air is fresh, trees look more green and rivers are cleaner. It is a further and direct proof that human interference is responsible for environmental degradation. Read More..
