

Why Should We Care About Development Finance? ...because it's our money!

Volume 5, Issue 27, December 31, 2021

Faced with grotesque inequality, what can we learn from Chile?

“Chile was the birthplace of neoliberalism, and it shall also be its grave!” said Gabriel Boric, a young student leader from the radical fold who was forged in the protests that has rocked Chile in recent years. The Chileans just elected him as their president in what was the most acrimonious and polarised election in decades. It was a contest between the legacies of the left-liberal Salvador Allende and that of General Pinochet. Read more.

The Fate of Rural and Farm Credit with Privatisation of Banks

Rural and farm credit were totally neglected before the nationalisation of banks on 19th July 1969. The historic All India Rural Credit Survey carried out in 1954 showed that formal credit institutions provided less than 9% of credit needs in India. While, the moneylenders, traders and the rich landlords handled more than 75% of rural credit.
