

Perspectives, Analysis & Debates on Renewable Energy

Vol 1 Issue 12 July 31, 2022

Securing Skilled Jobs for the Present & the Future

We need to provide a range of skill training from farm-based activities to non-farm skills and speaking to the needs of the region, at the very local levels. More >>

ESG dilution: Way forward lies in inequality sensitive RE Finance

We need a solution that balances green energy requirements with energy security, rather than diluting ESG measures and global RE commitments. More >>

Ensuring Green Projects are truly Green

For sustainably moving towards renewable energy, one of the important step is to reduce the ecological damages that are incurred during the setting up of large utility-scale solar parks. More >>
